

8 Simple Weekly Habits That Keep Your Couch Looking New

Protecting your couch doesn't require expensive treatments. A few simple weekly habits can help reduce everyday wear, keep your sofa looking cleaner, and extend its lifespan.

✓ Vacuum Once a Week

Dust, crumbs, and pet hair settle between cushions. Vacuuming regularly helps prevent dirt from wearing down the fabric.

✓ Rotate Seat Cushions

If your cushions are reversible, rotate or flip them every few weeks. This helps distribute wear evenly and keeps the couch looking balanced. If cushions stay flat or lumpy even after rotating, it may be time to replace the cushion inserts.

✓ Clean Spills Immediately

Blot spills with a clean, dry cloth as soon as they happen. Avoid rubbing, which can push the stain deeper into the fabric. Here is our cleaning collection you can buy just one click

✓ Avoid Direct Sunlight

Close curtains or blinds during the brightest part of the day to help reduce fading caused by UV rays. If you want protective covers <https://cushionpalace.com/product-category/cushion-covers/> check all our covers collections.

✓ Keep Pet Nails Trimmed

Short nails are less likely to scratch upholstery or pull fabric threads.

✓ Avoid Sitting on the Armrests

Armrests are not designed to support full body weight. Sitting on them regularly can loosen the frame and cause uneven wear.

✓ Use Throw Blankets in High-Traffic Areas

A washable throw blanket can protect the seat that gets the most daily use and makes cleaning easier.

✓ Follow the Manufacturer's Care Instructions

Always check your couch's care label before using any cleaning product. Using a cleaner that matches your upholstery type helps reduce the risk of accidental damage.

Quick Reminder

Small habits make a big difference. Spending just a few minutes each week caring for your couch can help prevent stains, uneven cushion wear, fading, and unnecessary repairs.
